Who We Are

Efret was born out of a Global and European vision believing in a pioneering business model placing process, technology and automation at the heart of our business enabling us to create innovative transportation solutions at competitive costs and meet the growing and fast evolving challenges of Industry.

Thanks to a high degree of specialisation, we're able to meet the demanding needs of the industries we serve. Investment in relevant human resource ensures that operational control remains firmly in committed hands and that customer communication is precise and information transparent.

Our European identity and the common values shared with our employees are an integral part of Efret's DNA. Today we operate in 21 European countries and North Africa.
